

Review Template

Overall rating / recommendation:

Give your final rating (imagine that you decide whether to accept or reject this paper for a major conference)

- 5 – definitely accept: I would strongly argue for accepting this paper.
- 4 – probably accept: I would argue for accepting this paper.
- 3 – borderline: I would not argue for accepting this paper.
- 2 – probably reject: I would argue for rejecting this paper.
- 1 – reject: I would argue for rejecting this paper.

Reviewer expertise:

State how familiar you are with the paper's topic.

- 4 – expert knowledge
- 3 – knowledgeable
- 2 – passing knowledge
- 1 – no knowledge

Short summary of the text:

Briefly describe the content of the paper in 2-3 sentences.

Contribution statement:

Briefly describe the contribution of the paper and its relevance in 2-3 sentences

Your review:

Describe the paper's strengths and weaknesses in great detail so that the author is able to understand them and can improve her/his paper. First mention major concerns regarding originality, significance, and validity and afterwards discuss smaller concerns. Provide suggestions for improvements if possible.

