Task

- Collect as many mental models / paradigms from the real world applicable to foldable phones (for your scenario).
- Think of implications of the form factor.

Document your process in the sketchbook!

Homework

- Cluster the mental models by attributes, similarity and assign the right hardware (unfold/open).
- Research about popular applications in your area.
- Do they transfer to the new context of foldable phones easily?
- Identify 3 areas where folding as an interaction method can enrich the experience.

Document your process in the sketchbook! Hand in a PDF answering the questions, use images to illustrate.
